SYLVIA FOWLES MAKES HISTORY

FOWLES DUNKS!

With 9:29 to play in the first half against Louisiana-Lafayette on Nov. 21, LSU All-American center Sylvia Fowles stole the ball at the top of the key, drove the length of the court and threw down a one-handed dunk to the delight of the Maravich Center crowd. Fowles became only sixth player in women's college basketball history to dunk in a game. Fowles joins Georganne Wells of West Virginia, the first woman to dunk in an NCAA game in December 1984, North Carolina's Charlotte Smith, Houston's Sancho Lyttle and Tennessee's Michelle Snow and Candace Parker as women to dunk in a women's NCAA game.

FOWLES ON HER DUNK

"When I saw that I had the steal, I saw someone coming up behind me and I knew I had to get my feet right then. I stutter stepped went up and it just happened. It felt good to hear the crowd go wild, but it felt especially good to hear my teammates. I know (my teammates) have been waiting for this for a long time. I saw Seimone (Augustus) and Temeka (Johnson) earlier in the stands and it's also something I owed them. I promised them that. Just to please them and my teammates makes me happy."

VAN CHANCELLOR ON THE DUNK

"All I've ever been asked is when will Big Syl dunk. Tonight, I quit having to answer that question. What I liked about it was that it was not a cheap dunk. It was not everyone clear out the way. She stole the ball and next she dunked it."

SYL'S DUNK IN TOP 10 PLAYS OF THE DAY

Sylvia Fowles dunk against UL-Lafayette was the No. 4 play of the day on ESPN's Top 10 Plays of the Day on SportsCenter. ESPN also showed the dunk during their live coverage of the Duke vs. Marquette men's game on Nov. 21.

NOTICE SOMETHING DIFFERENT?

If you noticed something different about associate head coach Bob Starkey, you are correct. Starkey, in his 19th season at LSU and his 10th season with the Lady Tigers, shaved his head bald to support his wife Sherie. Sherie was diagnosed with breast cancer this past summer and is doing well with her treatments. Starkey and LSU, along with the WBCA, want to raise awareness of breast cancer with the "Think Pink" campaign.

LSU PARTICIPATES IN "THINK PINK"

LSU joined the WBCA in the 2008 WBCA's "Think Pink" initiative. The WBCA's "Think Pink" initiative is a global, unified effort for the WBCA's nation of coaches to assist in raising breast cancer awareness on the court, across campuses, in communities and beyond. LSU's "Think Pink" game was Feb. 10 against Georgia. The Lady Tigers donned specially made Nike uniforms and shoes that were trimmed in pink.

VAN CHANCELLOR

HEAD COACH
20-3 • First season
459-157 • 20th season in college

Van Chancellor, a veteran head coach of 29 years at both the collegiate and professional levels, brings to LSU an impeccable resume, one that includes leading the United States to a gold medal in the 2004 Olympics Games, four WNBA titles with the Houston Comets and 14 NCAA Tournament appearances at Ole Miss.

"It's a rare occasion that an athletic director has the opportunity to hire a person with the credentials that Van Chancellor brings to our women's basketball program," Bertman said. "Van has experienced tremendous success at all levels of women's basketball.

"He developed Ole Miss into a powerhouse in the SEC, won WNBA titles with the Houston Comets and led our national team to a gold medal in the Olympics. He knows how to win championships and that's what we have come to expect at LSU. Van is a man with a great deal of energy and drive and we are excited to have him become our women's basketball coach."

In addition to his recent induction into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame, along with the likes of Roy Williams, Phil Jackson and Mendy Rudolph, Chancellor is also a member of the Women's Basketball Hall of Fame.

Success has followed Chancellor at every turn, as he posted a 38-0 mark in International competition as head coach of the United States Olympic Team. Add to that his 211 victories as head coach of the Comets and the 439 games he won at Ole Miss, and Chancellor comes to LSU with nearly 700 victories to his credit.

Most recently, Chancellor served for 10 years as head coach of the Houston Comets from 1997-2006. During that time, Chancellor was named the WNBA Coach of the Year three times (1997, 1998, 1999) and he led the franchise to the league's first four titles. Under Chancellor's direction, the Comets were the only team in the WNBA to make the playoffs in each of the first seven seasons of the league.

His 1998 Comets team still holds the record for highest winning percentage in the history of NBA and WNBA basketball with a 27-3 mark (.900).

In 10 years with the Comets, Chancellors' teams posted a 211-111 record, which makes him the winningest coach in the history of the league. Chancellor had the distinction of coaching the Western Conference All-Star Team three times during his career and he was also named the coach of the WNBA's All-Decade Team in June of 2006.

As head coach of the Comets, Chancellor produced the WNBA Most Valuable Player five times, the WNBA Defensive Player of the Year three times and the league's most improved player twice.

Before his jump to the professional ranks, Chancellor spent 19 seasons at Ole Miss, developing the Lady Rebels into one of the nation's premier women's basketball programs. As the Ole Miss head coach, Chancellor guided the Lady Rebels to the NCAA Tournament 14 times, which included 11 consecutive appearances from 1982 to 1992.

In 19 years at Ole Miss, Chancellor's teams

That year, the Lady Rebels reached the NCAA Tournament's Elite Eight before falling to Southwest Missouri State.
